DIED.

On Wednesday morning, 22d February, 1860 at li-tiome in the city of Loussville, surrounded by hi-amily and friends, Hos. JOHNG, Lyon, Senator fron he Louisville district.

Mr. Lyon was in attendance on the meetings of the Senate on Friday morning last. On Saturday morn ug, being indisposed, he returned to his home, where, after violent suffering for a few days with disease o the threat, he passed to that "banrno from whence no traveler ever returns." It would be useless here, in this short notice, to attempt to portray his life, or describe his character. He was a sincere friend, a of his country; and in his loss there is a bereavement Senate by a large majority. His public acts were and those visiting the city, will call upon this house the Senate chamber will earry a pang of sadness to the beart of every member of that body. All knew sep29 w&t-wtf

* Our Engino works up to any speed we desire; in fact we often have more power than we can use, and have to lear ethe fire-door open when sawing dry timber. In sawing green puplar we use about half the slabs, but consume the offer half in running our Grist Mill two days in the weed. We make 30 bushels commead per hour with a pair of Burriss' 36 inch burrs. You may think that first, but it is true; and we run a flouring mill at the same time, both coupled directly to the engire. * My mill is quite popular, not only as a saw, but grist mill, and I must give the Blandy Fortade Steam Engine at least haff the credit, for it works at all times Like A Thing of Life. We have had but very little trouble in keeping everything a order without tho aid of a machinist or engineer. I had a man with me three days who had been used to as a ntionary engine. Since then n boy attends the engine, and does it well. As to my saw, we can cut just what wo please—have cut at the rate of 1350 feet per hour. The saw never heats in an kind of timber. Lumber is in good demand, so that up to this time I cannot get a supply for myself.

SMITHVILLE, DeKalb co., Tenn., 9th Oct., 1859. * We have become the owners of the engine you sold to Jo. Young, of Wilson county, Tenn. He call-ed it "The Darbam Bull" "We call it "Old Blandy," edit "The Darbam Bull" We call it "Old Blandy,' for it is worthy of its maker's name; and the world cannot beat it, for we are running a 50 ineb saw with it, making as nice smooth lumber as was ever, seen. We moved it some 45 miles, and set it up on the bank of the Cancy Fork River, and we saw It gs asharge with it as 42 inches; and we make it draw its own It gs out of the river up a railway 140 feet long and 42 feet elevation. We also pump water 52 feet high, and do it all at the same time. Its performances deceive all that look at it—both those who are jadges of an engine, and those who are fools et ough to think that it is so small that it can't do any bing. We mean to attach a grist add next spring, and we do all with the pointer servewed down to 70 pounds. Board of Visitors appointed by the State,

LEAD CHUEK, Mo, 7th Oct., 1859. * Our Mill is still doing fine, making very nico smooth lumber, and cutting all the logs we can get to and from it. It has deceived the old-fashioned mill men the worst of anything I ever saw. They can't see how it is that it has so much power and it so little. But they have to acknowledge that it out-cuts any mill they ever saw, big or little.

Let them multiply upon every hill ton and in every valley of the Commonwealth! That was his hope—that was the great thought of his life. But he is stricken down in the midst of his usefalness, and has left his unfinished task to other hands.

This is indeed a sudden and a sad bereavement to the State and to his family. It is a great loss to lose a wise statesman, and, in these degenerate days, a greater loss, to lose a Christian man from the halls of legislation.

To his afflicted family I tender my deepest con dolence. To them the loss is irreparable. THE Vesper Gas Light has won for itself a reputation for elegance, economy, snfety, and simplicity far hey ond any other ar ificial light. The Vesper Gas fame and favinres precisely resemble in form those of coal gas; but in brilliancy and purity of light, it possesses a decided advantage over even Louisville coal gas. It requires no chimney; there is no need of daily trimming of wick; and the construction of the faxture is so simple that it is not lable to get out of order, and a child can manage it readily. The gas burned in the Vesper faxtures is generated from pure coal oil, without any admixture of alcohol or other foreign ingredient. It is ent rely free from odor while burning, as, by a simple contrivunce, the vapor of the oil is mixed with the atmosphere, producing perfect combustion and n most intense light. The light has been pronounced by those who have had it in constant use for mounts, as most pleasant to the eye while reading or sewing, there leing no flicker or unsteadiness in the flame. The V sper Gas Light is portable, and can be used in towr or country—in fact, wherever artificial light is required. The faxtures themselves are adapted in styles to sait all tastes, from the plain single-light burner to the most costly chandelier. Each whandelier is tyles to sait all taxtures, from the cheap single-light burner to the expensive chandelier, no miniature gas-works in thenselves. They are sold at prices which do not exceed the cost of the ordinary gas fixtures of similar style and ornnmentation. A price list will be sent to any address on application.
